

2008 AUTO INSURANCE UPDATE

We, at the Jubenville Insurance Group, would like to keep you updated with the changes that are happening in our state. In September 2007, Nonnie Burnes, the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner, recommended and approved many changes to your auto insurance options. As a result of these changes, on April 1, 2008 Massachusetts drivers will have the benefit of “Managed Competition”.

In short, this proposed “Managed Competition” implementation will allow insurance companies in Massachusetts to file their own rates and coverage variations. Previously, the Division of Insurance set your rates and mandated coverage options.

What will this mean to you?

This means that on April 1, 2008, you will have additional pricing and coverage options for your car insurance. We expect that good drivers (drivers who have no accidents or moving violations) will pay less for their car insurance.

What will the Jubenville Insurance Group do for you in this new “Managed Competition” Marketplace?

At this time we have added additional companies so you will have more pricing and coverage options. Our agency is excited and eager to present you with the most competitive insurance program for your auto and home insurance. If we currently write your auto insurance, you will be all set with options. If we do not currently provide you or your family members with auto insurance, now is the time to contact us!

What should you do to find out more information or to take advantage of these changes?
